General-reader priestly-review edition

PRIESTLY REVIEW DRAFT

NOT APPROVED FOR INSTRUCTION OR PUBLICATION

Monochrome portrait reference edition

Review status

Priestly review draft. This packet deliberately includes source-audited and art-reviewed records that have not passed the publication gate. It is incomplete, provisional, and unsuitable for training, installation, release, or a claim of Roman completeness.

Clarity and proportion review

Review whether the concise provisional selection remains accurate while explaining identity, purpose, symbolism, status, and period.

Each entry prints its current workflow, artwork, and claim-evidence states. Those labels are caveats, not approvals.

Altar bells

[obj-altar-bells]

campanula

The minister warns shortly before the Consecration and rings three times, or continuously, at each elevation; the Missal also provides a warning when faithful are to communicate.

REVIEW: source-audited; art: identity-checked

◇ Evidence caveat: ceremonial-presence: checked-paraphrase; liturgical-use: checked-paraphrase; appearance: editorial-proposal

Altar candlestick [obj-altar-candlestick]

candelabrum

REVIEW: source-audited; art: identity-checked

◇ Evidence caveat: ceremonial-presence: checked-paraphrase; handler: checked-paraphrase; appearance: editorial-proposal

Altar candle

[obj-altar-candle]

candela

REVIEW: source-audited; art: identity-checked

◇ Evidence caveat: ceremonial-presence: checked-paraphrase; safety: checked-paraphrase

Aspergillum

[obj-aspergillum]

aspergillum

Candidate inventory identity and representative sprinkler morphology; governing source loci remain to be audited.

REVIEW: art-reviewed; art: identity-checked

◇ Evidence caveat: identity: editorial-proposal; appearance: editorial-proposal

Altar cruet

[obj-altar-cruet]

ampulla

The 1962 Offertory and ablution rites require wine and water to be supplied to the celebrant; contemporary server arrangements use two altar cruets for that service.

REVIEW: source-audited; art: identity-checked

◇ Evidence caveat: liturgical-use: source-grounded-synthesis; terminology: unverified-lead

Incense boat, spoon, and incense

[obj-incense-boat-set]

navicula cum cochleari et thure

Candidate grouped inventory identity; governing source loci and whether the components require separate publication records remain to be audited.

REVIEW: art-reviewed; art: identity-checked

◇ Evidence caveat: identity: editorial-proposal; appearance: editorial-proposal

Chalice

[obj-chalice]

calix

The 1962 Missal names the calix throughout the Offertory, Canon, Communion, ablutions, and concluding removal from the altar.

REVIEW: source-audited; art: identity-checked

◇ Evidence caveat: liturgical-use: checked-paraphrase

Ombrellino

[obj-ombrellino]

umbraculum

Candidate inventory identity only; Roman 1962 scope, institutional status, terminology, and ceremonies require a dedicated source audit before publication.

REVIEW: art-reviewed; art: identity-checked

◇ Evidence caveat: identity: editorial-proposal; appearance: editorial-proposal

Paten

[obj-paten]

patena

The 1962 Missal distinguishes the patena used by the celebrant from the plate held beneath communicants' chins.

REVIEW: source-audited; art: identity-checked

◇ Evidence caveat: liturgical-use: checked-paraphrase

Portable holy-water vessel

[obj-holy-water-vessel]

vas aquae benedictae

Candidate inventory identity and representative portable-vessel morphology; governing source loci remain to be audited.

REVIEW: art-reviewed; art: identity-checked

◇ Evidence caveat: identity: editorial-proposal; appearance: editorial-proposal

Processional torch

[obj-processional-torch]

intortitium

Candidate inventory identity and representative torch morphology; governing source loci remain to be audited.

REVIEW: art-reviewed; art: identity-checked

◇ Evidence caveat: identity: editorial-proposal; appearance: editorial-proposal

Processional cross

[obj-processional-cross]

cruce processionalis

Candidate inventory identity and representative carrying-cross morphology; governing source loci remain to be audited.

REVIEW: art-reviewed; art: identity-checked

◇ Evidence caveat: identity: editorial-proposal; appearance: editorial-proposal

Sanctuary lamp [obj-sanctuary-lamp]
lampas

The Ceremonial directs that lamps around the place of reservation burn perpetually.

REVIEW: source-audited; art: identity-checked

◇ Evidence caveat: placement: checked-paraphrase; liturgical-use: checked-paraphrase; appearance: editorial-proposal

Thurible [obj-thurible] thuribulum

Candidate inventory identity and representative thurible morphology; governing source loci remain to be audited.

REVIEW: art-reviewed; art: identity-checked

◇ Evidence caveat: identity: editorial-proposal; appearance: editorial-proposal

Questions for Priestly Review

Please annotate the object ID and page for every correction.

1. Are any names, Latin headwords, ritual uses, handlers, or handling boundaries incorrect at the declared 1962 horizon?

2. Does any drawing contain an impossible construction, fold, wearing, scale relationship, placement, or ceremonial arrangement?
3. Which pictured form is merely local, regional, privileged, or historical rather than universal Roman use?
4. What object or substantive variant is missing from the edition's declared scope?
5. Does any entry risk teaching a server or sacristan to touch, carry, prepare, present, store, or avoid an object incorrectly?
6. Which caveat can be resolved from an exact official or edition-identified source? Please supply the work, edition, and locus.
7. Are the omissions below candid and sufficient for a review packet, and which omission should be researched first?
8. Does the concise selection explain identity, purpose, brief symbolism, and history without oversimplifying status or period?

Pronunciation Reference

Commonly spoken Latin headwords will be selected only after the inventory and terminology audit are complete.

English–Latin and Latin–English Indexes

Index entries will be generated from the canonical reviewed inventory.

Visual Index

Plate and figure references will be generated from the reviewed plate manifest.

Variant and Terminology Notes

Source-qualified notes will distinguish universal Roman use, authorized or regional variants, religious-community use, and historical examples.

Scope and Qualifications

The declared completeness boundary, rights state, and review qualifications will remain explicit until every production gate closes.

Numbered Source Notes and References

Entry-keyed source notes and the reviewed reference list will be generated from canonical bindings after claim-level verification.
