Epistle

1 Corinthians 12:2-11

² You know that when you were heathens, you went to dumb idols, according as you were led. ³ Wherefore, I give you to understand that no man, speaking by the Spirit of God, saith Anathema to Jesus. And no man can say The Lord Jesus, but by the Holy Ghost. ⁴ Now there are diversities of graces, but the same Spirit. ⁵ And there are diversities of ministries, but the same Lord. ⁶ And there are diversities of operations, but the same God, who worketh all in all. ⁷ And the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man unto profit. ⁸ To one indeed, by the Spirit, is given the word of wisdom: and to another, the word of knowledge, according to the same Spirit: ⁹ To another, faith in the same spirit: to another, the grace of healing in one Spirit: ¹⁰ To another the working of miracles: to another, prophecy: to another, the discerning of spirits: to another, diverse kinds of tongues: to another, interpretation of speeches. ¹¹ But all these things, one and the same Spirit worketh, dividing to every one according as he will.

Gradual

Psalms 16:8; Psalm 16:2

⁸ From them that resist thy right hand keep me, as the apple of thy eye. Protect me under the shadow of thy wings.

² Let my judgment come forth from thy countenance: let thy eyes behold the things that are equitable.

² A hymn, O God, becometh thee in Sion: and a vow shall be paid to thee in Jerusalem.

xx The Prayer, Munda cor meum, before the Gospel.

xx Priest CLEANSE my heart and my lips, O Almighty God, who didst cleanse the lips of the prophet Isaiah with a burning coal: and vouchsafe, through thy gracious mercy, so to purify me, that I may worthily attend to thy holy Gospel. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

xx Priest May the Lord be in my heart, and on my lips, that I may worthily, and in a becoming manner attend to his holy Gospel. Amen.

P. Dominus vobiscum

xxi

Priest The Lord be with you. Response And with thy spirit. Priest The continuation (or the beginning) of the holy Gospel according to, &c. Response Glory be to thee, O Lord.

xxi The Gospel may be seen in its proper place.

Gospel

Luke 18:9-14

⁹ And to some who trusted in themselves as just and despised others, he spoke also this parable:
¹⁰ Two men went up into the temple to pray: the one a Pharisee and the other a publican. ¹¹ The Pharisee standing, prayed thus with himself: O God, I give thee thanks that I am not as the rest of men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, as also is this publican. ¹² I fast twice in a week: I give tithes of all that I possess. ¹³ And the publican, standing afar off, would not so much as lift up his eyes towards heaven; but struck his breast, saying: O God, be merciful to me a sinner. ¹⁴ I say to you, this man went down into his house justified rather than the other: because every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled: and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

R. Laus tibi, Christe

xxi

Server Praise be to thee, O Christ.

xxi Then they say with the Priest, in a low voice, xxi All May our sins be blotted out by the words of the Gospel.

xxi The NICENE CREED.

Credo in unum Deum Patrem

xxi

I Believe in one God, the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth, and of all things visible and invisible.

Et in unum Dominum Jesum Christum

xxi-xxii

And in one Lord Jesus Christ, the only begotten Son of God, and born of the Father before all ages. God of God; Light of Light; true God of true God; begotten not made; consubstantial to the Father, by whom all things were made. Who for us men, and for our salvation, came down from heaven, and became incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary: AND WAS MADE MAN.* He was crucified also for us, suffered under Pontius Pilate, and was buried. And the third day he rose again according to the Scriptures. And ascended into heaven, sitteth at the right hand of the Father. And he is to come again with glory to judge both the living and the dead, of whose kingdom there shall be no end.

Et in Spiritum Sanctum, Dominum

xxii

And in the Holy Ghost, the Lord and Giver of life, who proceedeth from the Father and the Son; who, together with the Father and the Son, is adored and glorified; who spoke by the prophets. And one holy Catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one baptism for the remission of sins. And I expect the resurrection of the dead, and the life of the world to come. Amen.

Vere dignum et justum est

xxviii

Priest IT is truly meet and just, right and available to salvation, that we should always, and in all places, give thanks to thee, O holy Lord, Father Almighty, eternal God. * Thro' Christ our Lord: by whom the angels praise thy majesty, the dominations adore it, the powers tremble before it, the heavens, the heavenly virtues, and blessed seraphim, with common jubilee glorify it. Together with whom we beseech thee, that we may be admitted to join our humble voices, saying:

Priest Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of Sabaoth. Heaven and earth are full of thy glory. Hosanna in the highest. Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord, Hosanna in the highest.

xxviii On TRINITY-SUNDAY, and every other Sunday in the Year that has no proper Preface.

Qui cum unigenito Filio tuo

xxviii-xxix

Priest * Who together with thy only begotten Son and the Holy Ghost, art one God, and one Lord not in a singularity of one Person, but in a Trinity of one substance. For what we believe of thy glory, as thou hast revealed, the same we believe of thy Son, and of the Holy Ghost, without any difference or distinction. So that in the confession of the true and eternal Deity, we adore a distinction in the Persons, an unity in the essence, and an equality in the Majesty. Whom the angels and archangels, the cherubim also and seraphim praise: and cease not daily to cry out with one voice saying, Holy, &c.

xxix From CHRISTMAS-DAY till the Epiphany; on Corpus Christi; and on our Lord's Transfiguration.

xxix N. B. Prefaces thus marked † are concluded in the same manner as this.

Quia per incarnati Verbi mysterium

xxix-xxx

Priest * Since by the mystery of the Word made flesh, a new ray of thy glory has appeared to the eyes of our souls: that while we behold God visibly, we may be carried by him to the love of things invisible. † And therefore with the angels and archangels, with the thrones and dominations; and with all the heavenly host, we sing an everlasting hymn to thy glory, saying, Holy, &c.

xxx On the Epiphany and during its Octave.

Quia cum unigenitus tuus in substantia

xxx

Priest * Because when thy only begotten Son appeared in the substance of our mortal flesh, he repaired us by the new light of his immortality. † And therefore, &c.

xxx In LENT till Passion-Sunday.

Qui corporali jejunio vitia comprimis

xxx

Priest * Who by this bodily fast extinguishest our vices, elevatest our understanding, bestowest on us virtue and its reward. * Thro' &c.

xxx On PASSION and PALM SUNDAYS, Maundy-Thursday, and Feasts of the Holy Cross.

Qui salutem humam generis in ligno

xxx

Priest * Who hast appointed that the salvation of mankind should be wrought on the wood of the cross: that from whence death came, thence life might arise, and that he who overcame by the tree, might also by the tree be overcome. * Thro', &c.

xxx From HOLY SATURDAY till the Ascension.

Vere dignum et justum est

xxx-xxxi

Priest IT is truly meet and just, right and available to salvation, to praise thee, O Lord, at all times, but chiefly on this [night or day, or, at this time] when Christ our Passover was sacrificed for us. For he is the true Lamb who hath taken away the sins of the world. Who by dying has destroyed our death, and by rising again has restored us to life. † And xxxi From ASCENSION-DAY till Whitsun-Eve.

Per Christum Dominum nostrum. Qui post

xxxi

Priest * Through Christ our Lord. Who after his resurrection appeared openly to all his disciples, and in their presence ascended into heaven, to make us partakers of his divine nature. † And therefore, &c.

xxxi From WHITSUN-EVE till Trinity-Sunday; and in Votive Masses of the Holy Ghost.

Per Christum Dominum nostrum. Qui ascendens

xxxi-xxxii

Priest * Through Christ our Lord. Who ascending above all the heavens, and sitting at thy right hand, didst send down the promised holy Spirit [this day] upon the children of adoption. Wherefore the whole world displays its excess of joy. The heavenly virtues also and all the angelic powers, sing in concert an everlasting hymn to thy glory, saying, Holy, &c.

xxxii On FESTIVALS of the B. V. MARY (the Purification excepted.)

Et te in N. Beatæ Mariæ

xxxii

Priest * That we should praise, bless, and glorify thee on the N. ‡ of the blessed Mary, ever a Virgin. Who by the overshadowing of the Holy Ghost conceived thy only begotten Son: and the glory of her virginity still remaining, brought forth the eternal light of the world, Jesus Christ our Lord. * By whom, &c.

xxxii On the FESTIVALS of the APOSTLES.

xxxii

Priest IT is truly meet and just, right and available to salvation, humbly to beseech thee that thou O Lord, our eternal Shepherd wouldst not forsake thy flock, but keep it under thy continual protection by thy blessed apostles. That it may be governed by those whom thou hast appointed its vicars and pastors. * And, &c.

In principio erat Verbum

xliv

Priest IN the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God: the same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by him, and without him was made nothing that was made; in him was life, and the life was the light of men: and the light shineth in darkness, and the darkness did not comprehend it.

Fuit homo missus a Deo

xliv

Priest There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. This man came for a witness, to give testimony of the light, that all men might believe through him. He was not the light, but was to give testimony of the light. That was the true light which enlighteneth every man that cometh into this world.

In mundo erat, et mundus

xliv-xlvi

Priest He was in the world, and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not. He came unto his own, and his own received him not. But as many as received him, to them he gave power to be made the sons of God: to them that believe in his name, who are born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God: And THE WORD WAS MADE FLESH, and dwelt among us; and we saw his glory, as it were the glory of the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth.

About this Ordinary: The Ordinary of the Mass

1962 Missal · the frame the day's propers are set into · read in English

A pre-1955 lay hand missal's Ordinary, and never a book to celebrate from. The English here is the anonymous translation an 1861 Philadelphia printing made for the laity to follow the Mass with; it is not an approved liturgical translation, it was never an altar book, and nothing in it may be used for recitation. It is carried under the 1962 Missal because the Ordinary is substantially the same rite, but it is a witness to the discipline in force before the 1955 and 1960 reforms, and it differs from the 1962 typical edition in orthography and in some rubrics. Where it prints something the 1962 Ordo Missae does not - a second collect, a second secret, devotions at the Gospel - the element says so in its own place. The Latin of each element is given only by its incipit; this project has transcribed the book's English column and not its facing Latin one.

The Roman Missal translated into the English language for the use of the laity, first revised edition (Philadelphia: Eugene Cumiskey, 1861) — A pre-1955 lay hand missal, not an approved liturgical translation and never an altar book. Its rubrics and its seasonal second orations are not those of 1962, and its spelling is its own. Nothing here may be used for recitation.

latin-not-transcribed 195 of 195 elements. The 1861 book prints Latin and English in facing columns and this project has transcribed the English column only. Each element therefore carries the opening words of its facing Latin as an incipit, which identifies the prayer, and no more. The Latin is not withheld for any rights reason - this printing is public domain entire - and transcribing it is ordinary future work rather than a closed question.
